FREE PARENT HANDOUT · RECRUITING READINESS CHECK

Is Your Athlete Recruiting-Ready?

Recruiting starts earlier than most families think. College coaches are evaluating athletes now, and most families don't know what they're missing until a window has already closed. This quick check shows where your athlete stands.

WHAT HAS TO HAPPEN

Four years. One shot at each window.

THE COST OF GETTING IT WRONG

Miss your sport's contact window, and coaches can fill their rosters without ever seeing your athlete.

WHERE FAMILIES GET STUCK

- × Starting too late, then racing to catch up.
- × A highlight video that runs too long or buries the best plays.
- × Generic emails that coaches ignore.
- × Not knowing which division really fits your athlete.

This is where a 516 pro steps in.

TURN THE PAGE: TAKE THE 10-QUESTION READINESS CHECK

SELF-ASSESSMENT

Can you answer YES to all of these?

Check one box for each question. Be honest — every "no" is a gap to close before coaches make their decisions.

	QUESTION	YES	NO
1	Does your highlight video show your best play in the first 10 seconds?	☐	☐
2	Is your athletic resume updated with current stats and verified measurables?	☐	☐
3	Do you know which levels (D1, D2, D3, NAIA, JUCO) realistically fit your athlete?	☐	☐
4	Have you contacted coaches at schools that fit academically and athletically?	☐	☐
5	Are college coaches actually replying to your athlete's emails?	☐	☐
6	Do you have a written plan for which coaches to contact and when?	☐	☐
7	Do you know which contact rules apply to your sport this year?	☐	☐
8	Is your athlete on track with NCAA core courses and registered with the Eligibility Center?	☐	☐
9	Is full-game film ready to send the day a coach asks for it?	☐	☐
10	Do you know each target school's real net cost and how athletic aid is renewed?	☐	☐

If you answered no to any of these, that's exactly what a 516 pro helps with.
